“The more you read, the more things you know. The more that you learn, the more places you’ll go.”

- Dr. Seuss

The John Lawrence Detwiler Memorial Library in Partnership with the Library and Information Science Department and Centro Escolar University Celebrated 84th National Book Week this 2018. The objective of this celebration is: First, to implant in the young Filipino learners the love for books; Second, develop among the students essential reading and literacy skills; and the last, to promote library in University Community.

The highlights of this celebration after the ribbon cutting are: Seminar, Variety of Games, Story Telling, Book Exhibits, Awarding, and Amnesty week. The seminar was hosted by the JLDM Library with the coordination of AUP-LIS and CEU-MLIS. The speaker was the well-known speaker in librarianship, Dr. Diljit Singh (a professor of University of Malaya). Variety of games was facilitated by JLDM Librarians and participated by the students and faculty. Story telling rendered by the LIS students and benefited by the pupils from AUP Elementary.

Awarding was given to the individuals and departments who top notched in borrowing library resources. Amnesty Week was initiated to give mercy to the library community on the overdue materials and if they returned it on this week. The fines will be waived. 🕯

Turnitin Guidelines

By: Artemio T. Concordia, Jr.

1. Paraphrased correctly and anyone who want to avail the turnitin services must remember to submit a document that is included a reference to clearly indicate the parts of your work that are drawn from another person's work.
2. Used direct quotations sparingly. Carefully selected quotations add to the points you are making, but they don't, in themselves, add to the quality of your work.
3. Provided a reference for every image, diagram or figure (unless you created it). Creation is when you produce something new.
4. Include reference list of all work cited. Make sure you understand what type of referencing protocol you are required to follow for your unit.
5. Keep a copy of the original sources that you have referenced. Always keep your work and the original reference together losing the original source of the information is poor academic practice, and it means you might end up submitting work without a reference; or, you might end up submitting it with the wrong reference.
6. Do not used copy and paste to take text from another source (unless it is a direct quote and you reference it). This is VERY important. If you copy and paste from a source and fail to reference it properly then you have plagiarized.
7. Do not used another student's work, or submitted someone's work as your own. Often students are encouraged to work together, to cooperate by sharing ideas and understandings.
8. Do not copied from a previous assignment submitted to this or any other unit. ✨
